The course of studies in Pennsylvania College is as extensive and substantial as that of any in-stitution in the country. The Preparatory Department provides for instruction in all the branches of a thorough English business education, in addition to the Elements of the Mathematics and Classical Literature. The College course is arranged in the four classes usual in the institutions of this ountry.

The government of the students is as energetic as their circumstances seem to require. They attend at least two recitations a day, and the Faculty contemplate increasing them to three, Church and Bible Class on the Sabbath, and are visited in their rooms so frequently as to preclude the dan-ger of any great irregularities. It is believed no institution in the United States has more exemplary young men in connexion with it. They are all required to lodge in the College edifice, special cases excepted.

The annual expenses are-for board, tuition and room rent, during the winter session $61 87 1-2; for the summer session, $41 87 1-2; washing, $10; wood, $3 00. Total expense, $116 75. Boarding can be had in town at $1 25 per week.

There are two vacations in the year, commencing on the third Thursdays of April and September; each of five weeks continuance.

The summer session will commence on Thurs day, the 22d of May. The annual commencement takes place on the third Thursday in September. The Trustees have recently made various arrangements which will increase the efficiency of the Institution. They have increased the number

CONGRESSIONAL INTELLIGENCER.

The proprietors of the NATIONAL TELLIGEN-CER, in order to meet the wishes of those whose ircumstances or inclination do not allow them to subscribe even to a weekly Washington paper during the whole year, have determined to issue during each session of Congress, a weekly sheet styled "The Congressional Intelligen-CER," to be devoted exclusively to the publication, as far as its limits will permit, of the Proceedings of both Houses of Congress, and Official Reports and Documents connected therewith, including a complete official copy of all Acts passed by Congress du-

To bring the price within the means of every man who can read, the charge for this paper will be for the first session of each Congress One Dollar, and for the second session of each Congress half a Dollar.

The price of the Congressional Intelligen-cer, to be issued on each Wednesday during the pproaching Session of Congress, will therefore be One Dollar paid in advance.

To enlarge upon the value, to those who take no newspaper from Washington, of this publica-tion, containing an impartial but necessarily abbreriated account of the Proceedings in Congress, including an authentic official copy of all the laws passed during the session, would be needless. The nan who takes no such paper ought to take one, if he does not prefer remaining ignorant of what nost nearly concerns his own destiny, and that of his family and of his posterity for ever.

When six copies are ordered and paid for by any one person, a deduction of one-sixth will be made from the price, that is to say, a remittance of Five Dollars wil command six copies of the Congressional Intelligencer for the next Session. A remittance of Ten Dollars will secure thirteen opies; and for Fifteen Dollars remitted from any one person or place twenty copies will be for-

Payment in advance in all cases is indis-

WEEKLY NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER. This paper, being made up of such portion of the contents of the National Intelligencer proper as can be compressed within the compass of a single newspaper, continues to be issued and mailed to subscribers every Saturday at Two Dollars a year, payable in advance in all cases-no account being opened with subscribers to the weekly paper. To bring this paper yet more nearly within the reach of such as desire to take by the year a cheap aper from the seat of the General Government, a reduction will be made in the price of it where number of copies are ordered and paid for by any one person or association at the following

For Ten Dollars six copies will be sent. For Twenty Dollars thirteen copies; and For each sum of Ten Dollars, above Twenty, eight copies will be forwarded; so that a remittance of Fifty dollars will command thity-seven copies.

PROSPECTUS OF THE INVESTIGATOR. This Journal will be devoted to the subjects of Religion, Morality, Science, &c. Religious subjects will be treated in a temperate but fearless manner, and the tenets of the various sects, as occasion may require, will be examined with candor and impartiality. No personalities calculated to displease, will ever be admitted.

Education and Temperance will be advocated.

Party Politics will not be touched upon; but dispassionate arguments on general and abstract questions may occasionally appear; and Political ques-tions forming a connection with Religion (such as, the union of Church and State, &c.) will be freely discussed. As to scientific subjects, preference will be exended to those of a practical and useful charac-

The ET CETERA will embrace a variety of topics of general information, et cetera.

The articles will, chiefly, be original. When selection can be made with decided advantage, it will be done. The subjects will be varied as much as possible, to suit the various tastes of the community.

The first number may be considered as a specimen, though containing less variety, it is believed, than the succeeding ones will contain

It is intended to be monthly, and of 32 pages. It has to make its way into the world without a father's name to help it, as many a child has been obliged to do before it; and, if it only receives that encouragement which they who first help themselves usually receive from the American public, it will not despair of success. The terms are: 12 1-2 cents each number; $1 50 for the year in advance.

NEW SERIES OF THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX.

[To be Stereotyped.]

[THE undersigned originated the mode of journalizing the proceedings of Congress which presented them entire. Their publication was the first and only one that gave each successive step in every measure in both branches of Congress; a brief of all the debates; every important vote; and an Appendix, including at full length all the revise. ed speeches delivered during the session. The work thus conducted by them is a most perfect po-litical history. The Senators from the States and the Representatives from every section of the Union bring with them into Congress a knowledge of the feelings, sentiments, and interests of their several constituencies. Public opinion, and the public information, as it exists among those they represent, are embodied by them; and in the crucible of Congress the wisdom of our times is brought to its test, and is there concentrated, in directing the political movements of the whole country. The impulses thus given through Congress from every quarter react upon the nation as a whole, and all its component parts made to move in co-operation. The press cannot be more usefully employed than in condensing and again spreading abroad the intelli-gence of our free country, tending to such happy results through our almost miraculously adjusted State and National institutions.

Having identified ourselves with the plan of advancing the usefulness of Congress by publishing full and impartial reports, and having a large mass of the Congressional Globe and Appendix, issued during the last ten years, which would be impaired in value to us and utility to the public if the work were discontinued, we have a double motive to prompt us to extend it through a new series. We are resolved, if possible, to give it permanence, and to hand it down to successors as a standard work worthy of being maintained and improved. We shall enter upon our new undertaking without being distracted or burdened by any associate labors of the press; and, thus unincumbered, shall hope to make the new series a step in advance of the former in all points of execution. With a view to accomplish this, we shall be (one or the other) al-ways in attendance in Congress; will compare the manuscripts of our own reporters with the daily reports of the city papers; correct all by our own observation and knowledge of the proceedings; and in all important matters, where that will not assure us of the fidelity of the reports, we will procure the aid of the members themselves to obtain the exact scope of their remarks. The work, thus authenticated, will be stereotyped, which is a guaranty that we will make it as perfect as it is possible for us to make it, as we would not incur the expense of ste-reotyping it if we did not feel confident of its superiority over all works of the kind which have b or are likely to be published. Stereotyping the work will enable us to supply lost or mutilated numbers, which we will do without making any charge for them.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two Houses of Congress. The peeches of the members are condensed, to bring hem into a readable length. All the resolutions offered, or motions made, are given in the mover's own words; and the yeas and nays on all the important questions. It is printed with small type— brevier and nonpareil—on a double royal sheet, in quarto form, each number containing sixteen royal quarto pages.

The Appendix is made up of the President's annual message, the reports of the principal officers of the Government that accompany it, and all the long speeches of members of Congress, written out or revised by themselves. It is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe, and usually makes bout the same number of pages.

We print the numbers as fast as the proceedings of Congress furnish enough matter for a number. During the first month or six weeks of a session there is rarely more business done than will make one number of the Congressional Globe and one number of the Appendix a week; but during the remainder of a session there is usually sufficient matter for two or three numbers of each every week. The next session will be a long one, and it is supposed will be unusually interesting; therefore we calculate that the Congressional Globe and Appendix will each make near one thousand large quarto pages, printed in small type—brevier and nonpareil. We furnish complete indexes to both at the end of alsession.

We have on hand the Congressional Globe and

Appendix for the last twelve sessions of Congress, of which five were long and seven were short sessions. The Congressional Globe and Appendix for each session are bound together in excellent binding, with Russia backs and corners. Our prices for them, thus bound together, are $3 a volume for a short, and $5 a volume for a long session, making $46 for a full set. Those who want the back volumes should apply for them immediately, as they are in demand. The last Congress subscribed for two hundred and twenty-six sets; and it is probable more, as the proceedings of Congress for the last eight years cannot be procured from any other source, Gales & Seaton having stopped printing their Register of Debates in 1837. A few hundred copies of the first volume is all we have on hand. The next session of Congress will be a long one, and therefore the Congressional Globe and Appendix should be $2 for the session, which is the price we charge for the unbound numbers of the past long sessions; but we have concluded to reduce the price, as follows, until the first day of next January, after which time the Congressional Globe and Appendix will each be $2 for the session, and no deduction will be made on account of the number of copies taken. TERMS. For one copy of the Congressional Globe For one copy of the Appendix For four copies of either, or part of both For twenty-five copies of either, or part

WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 4, 1845. BLAIR & RIVES. DROSPECTUS OF THE NEW LIBRARY OF LAW AND EQUITY, under the direc-

ion of Francis J. Troubat, esq., of Philadelphia; Hon. Ellis Lewis, of Lancaster; and Wilson Mc-Candless, Esq., of Pittsburgh. This work contains the best productions of English law authors, without regard to priority of claim on the part of any American publisher. Such books are now notoriously too dear. The reason is, that as fast as they appear, they become monopolies in the hands of booksellers in the Atlantic cities. Under the plea of right, acquired by the addition of notes of Americau decisions, the latter claim an undivided title to those works, and set a burdensome price on them. The publishers of the work now offered to the profession throughout the Union, will not respect such titles, but will reprint the standard British law books as fast as they emanate from the London market. Should new editions of the works of such writers as Starkie, the Chittys, Stephen, and Archibold, appear, they shall also be included; and digests of equity and law decisions-works which have been studiously kept out of the Law Library published at Philadelphia—shall have a place in the proposed new one, together with every new valuable English treatise on chancery or common law.

This work will be issued monthly, in numbers of 160 pages, printed on line and lars per angood new long primer type, at seven dollars per annum, payable half yearly.
